Why
Choose Us?

Swiftsure Milling's wire-brushing and charring technique is rooted in the traditional methods of Shou Sugi Ban, while taking the process one step further.

By carefully charring the surface and then wire-brushing the material, we enhance the natural grain, texture, and character of the wood while helping preserve the longevity of its natural properties. The result is a distinctive finish that combines timeless craftsmanship with modern durability, creating a bold architectural look that is both refined and long-lasting.

Customization

Quality

Where high-end craftsmanship meets smart pricing for everyday builds.

Local

Proudly based in British Columbia, serving the local community and beyond.

Ibuki:
Premium Charred Wood, Refined by Tradition

Swiftsure Milling & Mouldings specializes in producing premium wood products, and our Ibuki Line is no exception.

Handcrafted from some of the finest STK Western Red Cedar available, we carefully select material with tight grain and sound knots to allow the wood's natural character to come through during the Shou Sugi Ban process.

The result is a bold, textured finish that highlights the depth, warmth, and distinctive beauty of Western Red Cedar while staying rooted in traditional Shou Sugi Ban methods.

Ibuki Line

Accoya Ibuki Line

For our Accoya Ibuki Line, we combine the exceptional performance of Accoya wood with our signature charring and finishing process. Known for its outstanding stability, durability, and longevity, Accoya provides an ideal foundation for a refined exterior wood product.

The result is a distinctive collection that brings together natural texture, rich architectural character, and long-lasting performance - designed for modern West Coast environments.
